

AGREEABLE SMITH TELLS ALL

In his first public statement concerning Urban Renewal, William Agreeable Smith, together with Frank Leavitt and Frank McLean of the Wilmington Housing Authority, told of the plans of the Urban Renewal authorities of Wilmington.

Smith, Leavitt and McLean were guests of the Baldwin Civic Association, Inc., which had 28 members present to hear Smith, Tuesday evening in the clubhouse on Chestnut St.

Smith, speaking in a low calm voice, described himself as a taxpayer of Wilmington, interested in the problem of Urban Renewal as a member of an elected Housing Authority.

Describing the project, he stated that they would have liked to find themselves in a position to lower the hill, at Wilmington Square, but would be unable to do so, because of the cost. They want to widen the Burlington Avenue bridge, and its approaches, a project that the New York City headquarters did not view too highly, but on which the Wilmington Authority insisted.

They hope to move the B&M RR depot across the tracks, and convert a lot of area there in to parking. When Urban Renewal was started, Smith said, there was only one lot of land on the RR side of Main St that was not owned by the railroad. He felt that the Wilmington Building & Grain should be located elsewhere, and that 'Pickering's Palace' should be torn down.

There was no proposal to move Weinberg's store, nor the bank buildings.

He stated that the Wilmington Housing Authority had been in contact with engineers of the New England Tel & Tel, and that that company wanted more land. They would like to have a two story building. If they should relocate, he said, the cost would be up to the company. They feel definitely handicapped, where they are.

Smith said that the Housing Authority did not like the poor view, at the Postoffice corner. They felt that Church Street should be widened.

Now that Wilmington has a First Class Postoffice, he felt it should have more space and perhaps the Federal Government would be willing to build a new Postoffice.

He said that the only building on Church Street, which was definitely planned to remain was the Fire Station. The Masonic Apartments, he felt, should not stay as they did not have the type of architecture the Urban Renewal center will have.

In Gloucester, Smith said, the developer there gave the Masons another lot of land when they lost their building there.

The Urban Renewal Program, Smith told his audience, is partly based on the acquisition of the Walker School and the Highway Department building. He defended the WHA position by pointing out that the town would get no credit, if

STUDENT PASTOR TO PREACH FIRST SERMON AT EVENING SERVICE

Rev. Richard McFarland, student pastor of the Wilmington Methodist Church will preach his first sermon on Sunday evening, December 7 at the second Advent evening service at 7 pm. Mr. McFarland a second year student at Boston University School of Theology, and with the local Methodist Church two days a week will preach on the topic: 'Christmas Courage.' The members and friends of the church are looking forward to hearing him speak as he has done such an effective job in the areas of the church where he has worked.

During the service each person will be given their own Christmas carol book to keep for use during the Christmas season. The Rev. Richard Harding pastor of the church has announced that baby-sitting provisions will be made at the church for small children for those families who wish to attend this service.

WILMINGTON ROTARY CLUB HEARS JAPANESE STUDENT SPEAK

At the regular meeting of the Wilmington Rotary Club the members heard Miss Kinue Mitata a Rotary Foundation Student of Japan speak. Miss Mitata was certainly one of the most colorful and enlightening speakers that club has heard in recent months. She attended the local club through the efforts of Ed Osberg, chairman of the International Service Committee. Mr Osberg has done the club an excellent service in this capacity bringing many foreign students to speak to the men of the community.

The clubs next meeting will be in Stoneham where they will be the guests of the Stoneham club. Thanks to the efforts of John Nitchie, attendance chairman, the local group has had many weeks of perfect attendance to completely overwhelm the Stoneham group in attendance competition. All Wilmington Rotarians will gather at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, December 9 between 11:30 and 11:45 am and will be police escorted to Stoneham for the days program!

CANDLELIGHT BALL

Officers and members of Wilmington Assembly Number 52, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will hold a semi-formal dance titled the Candlelight Ball on Friday evening, December 26 at the Wildwood School from 8:00-11:30. Tickets are $2.00 per couple and they may be obtained from Judith MacMelville at Oliver 8-2979.

ON THE WAUGHPATH

Christmas came early for the footballers of Tewksbury High School this year as Wilmington High School and Referee Sullivan combined to 'Present' them with five touchdowns and a 38-14 win Thanksgiving morning. Actually, much of the credit must be given to the Tewksbury team, who, as Coach Charlie Hazel told us, 'really wanted to win this one.'

Slow Starters

For the most part, early play was limited to the Tewksbury zone, but late in the second period Quarterback Joe Vizinho directed a 64-yard, nine-play march which gave the visitors their first score. Weddleton culminated this drive with a 30-yard smash off tackle and Joe Vizinho sneaked over with the two point conversion for a lead of 8-0.

Opportunists

Able to advance the Tewksbury kickoff which followed only 3 yards in three tries, the Blue and White sent Brian Phillips back into punt formation. The key play of the game occurred at this point when an errant pass from center sailed into the end zone from where Brian ran it to the Wilmington 11. A pretty jump pass found right end Bob Busch in the clear on the very next play, but he was tackled before he reached the end zone as the exclusive Town Crier photo clearly shows. In spite of the fact that none of the officials were in position to see the ball, Ref Sullivan granted Tewksbury their second touchdown when Busch 'pushed' the ball over the last stripe. (cont Pg 4)

THE SELECTMEN'S MEETING

There was a considerable soul searching, among the members of the Board of Selectmen, Monday evening, provoked by a remark by Don Kidder. The soul searching had to do with the old stony problem of gravel pits, and the discussion lasted nearly an hour.

Chairman Frank Hagerty had just read a letter from the Board of Appeals, in which was announced the decision of that board against the granting of a gravel pit variance for the Dias property, 300 feet off Concord St. (Laffin voting yes, and Hale and Di Campo No) and a discussion followed as to whether or not the Selectmen had to vote adversely against the application for the pit - with TM Calabrese finally suggesting that a letter be sent saying that they could not vote for the license as a result of the Appeal Boards decision.

Kidder Starts Discussion

Kidder: I am quite concerned about gravel operations - where are they (Campbell & Cardi) going to get it? I read in the paper they are going to move in 300 trucks - I am wondering if we have been amiss - made it just as hard as possible - granted that all we have done is to uphold the gravel regulations.

No one objected to me on this (Dias) gravel pit - I don't want to see anything happen like what we have in North Wilmington where that sharpshooter is digging lakes all over the place.

Hagerty: In Boston when a project is underway these contractors don't go crying to City Hall about their gravel and fill problems - I don't hear anyone crying crocodile tears for them in there - where they get their fill in there is their problem - we have a lot of $10,000 homes on Concord Street.

Kidder: - but that ramp, for the new highway over Concord Street is going to make things different - that hill just backs up to a swamp anyway.

Hagerty: I brought before this board, well over a year ago, a proposition, and I was just laughed at - the motion wasn't even seconded, but I still say that the thing to do is to appoint a committee composed of people who have nothing to do with the gravel business in any way, shape or manner, and let them look over the town and make recommendations. There may be hills in this town where it may be to the advantage of the town to have them removed.

Basically we have controlled the situation by our regulations, but we are going to have the pressure on us increase - gravel merchants coming to us under the guise that they are just seeking to make a better grade for property.

HOW NOT TO GET ALONG WITH THE PUBLIC

Mr. William Agreeable Smith should take a lesson from his appearance in the Baldwin Club, last Tuesday night.

He appeared at an open meeting. He answered questions. There may have been people there who disagreed with him, but at least they had a chance to talk with him.

The Wilmington Housing Authority, in appearing in open meeting, did themselves some good.

They gave a far better impression than they did a few weeks ago, when they "released" their "master plan" under peculiar circumstances.

Mr. Smith, Tuesday night, charged the Town Crier with "not telling the true story"

Mr. Smith apparently needs to learn that the way to get "the true story" to the public is to properly inform the public.

When Mr. Smith "informed" the public a few weeks ago, he did so under very peculiar circumstances.

He invited the heads of various committees to an executive - off the record meeting. He also invited a newspaper reporter to this meeting, which certainly put it on the record. He released a "master plan" to this newspaper reporter.

Unfortunately, the newspaper reporter did not understand that this was "just one of several plans" and no one who read that newspaper was able to get that understanding. The present action was such that everyone in Wilmington Square understood that this was "the plan".

The chairman of any committee, by virtue of his position, has certain moral obligations. If he calls for an "off the record" meeting he should not invite a newspaper to send its reporter. If he invites one newspaper he should invite them all.

Perhaps Mr. Smith explained things as carefully, that night, as he did Tuesday. Perhaps he did not. If he did, he certainly chose the wrong paper to report it.

We have nothing against the paper for reporting "exclusive" news. If the paper had stolen the news from an "executive" session it would have still more credit in its favor, as we have done on many an occasion.

But we do think that the chairman of a committee should not find himself in the position of inviting other officials to an off the record meeting, and then let them find that he is playing footsie with a newspaper, especially a newspaper that seems unable to get the story straight.

We do not plead guilty to being wrong, as Mr. Smith charged. We plead guilty to studying the "master plan" which was released. So did everyone else who was involved. Our conclusions were the same as were those of landowners in the area, and if such was the case, the Wilmington Housing Authority is the group to plead guilty.

THE REV. MR. CUMMINGS

The Reverend Mr. Cummings is leaving Wilmington. After 11 years as Pastor of the Congregational Church he has accepted a pastorate in a much smaller church, in Buckland.

The people of Wilmington are sorry to see him go. He was the pastor of his church, and he worked hard and faithfully for his church, accomplishing much. It is a monument today, to his work.

But the monument is larger than that, for together with two other men, the Reverend Stanley Cummings has allayed religious difficulties that for a while threatened the good will and peace of our town.

After World War II the people of this town, or at least some of them, were strongly divided in opinion. It was not a healthy situation.

Mr. Cummings, together with the Pastor of St. Thomas and the Pastor of the Methodist Church, Father Albert Shea and the Rev. Otis Maxfield, recognized the dangers. Working together, consulting with each other, they calmed their people, and made Wilmington a town that can be proud of its inter-church relationships. The work continues to this day, with clergymen, of all faiths in Wilmington working as one team. The people of Wilmington realized the work started by these three men, and showed their appreciation to them - Mr. Maxfield, and Father Shea, when the time had come for them to transfer to other pastures.

In the past week the Rev. Stanley Cummings has received a number of tributes from his fellow townsmen - fitting tributes to a humble man. The Rotary Club, for instance, had a Stanley Cummings Day, and in other ways the townspeople have made their feelings known.

To the tributes of our fellow townsmen we can add but little. Stanley Cummings, truly a servant of the people, is to leave us. We wish him Godspeed, in the name of all the people of Wilmington.

TOWN NOTES

First Mass. Deer?

Vic Okolo, of Federal Street, and Chuck Dolan of Mackey St. are probably the first Wilmington hunters to get their deer, in Massachusetts, this year.

They each shot a deer, four pointers, at 11:30 am Monday, up near Gardner. The two deer were of identical size and weighed in at 140 pounds.

No Hard Feelings

Chuck Hazel, of Tewksbury, Coach of the Football Squad of that town, and John Ritchie of Wilmington, assistant Coach of our Football Squad, saw the Army-Navy game, Saturday, in Philadelphia. No hard feelings between these two men.

Hard Luck

The maddest man in Wilmington this week is Commander Gene Sullivan, of the Legion.

Gene went up to New Hampshire to get his deer. He didn't

But he threw a rod through the block, in his car, and had to have a new engine put in. Oh Dear, No Deer.

Southwest Gale

The weather reports last Friday spoke darkly of four to six inches of snow, which we were ready to record as a big one for November - but then we didn't get it, which wasn't too surprising.

Instead we were on the receiving end of a Southwest Gale, about midnight, with winds of over 60 mph and temperatures up in the near 70's. Several trees were blown down, the most conspicuous being the old Elm (c 1580?) on the Brooks estate, and a large tree which blocked off West Street for a while.

We had 1.52 inches of rain, during that night with the gales, and since then there has been a dusting of snow every few hours. Rainfall for November was 3.20 inches.

Signatures

Our Town Treasurer, Mrs. Tilley, and the Selectmen have quite a signing chore to do this week. Each of them must sign each of the bonds, for money which the town borrowed recently, and which was reported in last week's paper.

It means 660 signatures for each person - 3960 in all.

The Vacuum Principal

We note that Ralph Allen, who runs the barber shop in North Wilmington has a new device - a gadget to remove surplus hair by a small vacuum cleaner. He uses it, he says, on youngsters after they have had a crew-cut - and then they don't have to spend so much time washing their hair, afterwards.

We don't know who would be the most delighted about this - the kiddoes who might get out of some choresome washing, or their mothers who might get out of some choresome ditto.

French Hat

Ray LeBlanc, of Lowell Street has blossomed out with a winter cap, complete with earmuffs, which is a most brilliant red.

A Frenchman has to have color he says.

Pereira & Luckman

The firm which designed the Wilmington plant of AVCO has dissolved. Pereira & Luckman, of Los Angeles, California, called it quits on Thanksgiving Day.

William Pereira is going to have his own firm, and Charles Luckman who used to be president of Lever Bros (soap) is going to continue his business under the name of Charles Luckman Associates.

A RESULT OF THE FRIDAY NIGHT STORM

The winds of gale force, which racked Wilmington last Friday night, battered the elm tree, before the Brooks home (formerly the Caleb Harriman estate) on Salem Street. John Brooks, with a saw, had quite a job cutting up the limb which fell across the driveway.

The tree is perhaps the oldest in New England, and is certainly the oldest elm. It was a large sized tree in 1642 when Woburn was settled, and the land north of Salem Street was set aside as 'The Land of Nod'. This was one of the seven trees which marked the boundary of that territory, which was beyond any churchly domain.

these buildings were to be town down, as they must some day in the not too far distant future, and in this way they can count the value of the building and of the land as a part of the contribution of the town towards their share of Urban Renewal.

No one is trying to force anything, in any way, on the people of Wilmington - but we would like to see the program advance.

On the 13th of October the local WHA received their information from the New York headquarters. Shortly thereafter they told the Selectmen the story, and then called a meeting with the heads of various committees, to consult with them.

The New York office said that Wilmington may be eligible for Urban Renewal.

In order to qualify, 55% of the buildings in the area must be blighted or decayed - and if this is so, the other buildings may be removed, to make everything within the area part of a uniform plan.

The plan which was printed in a paper was only one of a number of plans which are being considered, and is only tentative.

Smith charged a newspaper with giving wrong information - (meaning the Town Crier).

The total amount of cost to the town he said, would be about $250,000. If the Town, County & State should cooperate, in building or rebuilding Middlesex Avenue, and or Adelaide Street, such monies can be counted as part of the town contribution. Likewise if the town laid water mains, or sewer, or anything of such a nature it would be counted as a part of the town contribution.

The Walker School and Highway Buildings were being taken, he said, because they had to come down anyway, and the town might as well get some credit.

The buildings could not be taken, however, without the permission of the town, since they were municipally owned.

The Wilmington Housing Authority will raze the buildings if Urban Renewal is approved, and then sell the land to a commercial developer, for development.

The land would be appraised, not by a local firm, and the price of the land to the developer would be the price set by the appraiser. Smith indicated that there would be no cut price.

There are several firms which are interested, the audience was told, and the WHA has what amounts to firm commitments.

Answering questions from the audience, Smith said that there was 'practically definite' plans for a combination of a supermarket and a dry-goods store.

He said that this firm has a place in a nearby town (or city) and that it welcomed competition.

The WHA had met with this firm 3 weeks ago, and they had said that they would make a definite commitment within a month.

The planners who are working for the WHA have had previous experience with this firm.

Several recent near tragedies in our area emphasize the importance of observing these rules, for handling medicine.

1. Never take medicine in the dark. Always read the label first.

the game, we thought that Joe Vizinho's 8 completions of 12 passes for 110 yards and three touchdowns rated him the award as 'player of the game.' Joe Casey and Danny Bemis were in on a large percentage of Blue and White tackles - as usual! Butch McFeeters demonstrated a good right arm and an ability to use his imagination during his brief turn at quarterback. Frank Munroe's 6.3 average for 8 carries was bettered only by Weddleton's 8.1 in 11 tries. Wait til next year, Tewksbury!

Twice on Ice

If last weekend's bitter cold snap failed to convince any of us that winter is really here to stay, this notice should do the trick. Thursday evening, December 4, at the North Shore Sports Center in Lynn, speed skaters representing the Wilmington Skating Club will take part in the first competition of the 1958-1959 season. The annual Holiday Ice Carnival of the Northeastern Skating Association will, at once, signify the end of the weekly training sessions and herald the start of another long skating year. First, second, and third place finishers in each class will be awarded perspiration-shirts (skaters don't sweat) suitably emblazoned with a Northeastern Skating Association emblem. Spectators will be welcomed.

On Saturday, December 6, the skating scene will shift to Worcester Arena for afternoon exhibition races. Some of the various speed skating classes have been invited to put on a demonstration to acquaint interested Worcesterers with the finer points of the sport.

We want to wish the many Wilmington skaters entered in the two events the best of luck. Results will be recorded for Posterity (and all other subscribers) in this paper next week.

Football Review

Looking back on what must be considered a dismal football season in terms of Wilmington High's Great Expectations last fall, several bright rays of sunshine stand out. Among the boys who 'came to play' Danny Bemis, Eddie Palino, and Butch Boudreau must be acclaimed for their aggressive and consistent play throughout the year. Al MacDonald's grab of George Munroe's pass for the winning touchdown vs North Reading was Behind 14-0 at the half, the task confronting Wilmington's forces seemed herculean.

Second Half

To their credit, the Blue and White made a valiant effort to strike back early in the third period, but their attack sputtered and they were forced to punt. Vizinho needed only six plays in moving the ball sixty yards this time, with the last play covering 44 yards via the aerial route to Weddleton for his second six-pointer of the game. A Vizinho to Weddleton pass converted and upped the margin to 22-0.

Frank Munroe carried the ball for 35 yards in Wilmington's 70-yard drive for their first score. A fourth down pass to Don Weed from the 6 yard line for the TD gave Wilmingtonians something to cheer about.

Oh, Those Interceptions

Joy was short-lived, however, as Bob Hickey intercepted one of George Munroe's passes at the Wilmington 28 yard marker several plays later and bulled his way for a fourth Tewksbury touchdown. A second pass interception, this time by Dick Weddleton, preceded a final TD which ended (phew) Tewksbury's onslaught. A Warren McFeeters to Joe Casey aerial, perfectly executed, carried 43 yards for the final score in this high scoring contest. Another pass from McFeeters to Casey added two points and ended scoring for the game - and the year!

The best part of our Selectmen's meetings is taken up listening to contractors and others on gravel - but we must admit that we must maintain elevations in this town, to maintain proper sewer flowage.

Since they have started the highway we have had some cases to consider. There was the Mastermarino property - we gave them a proposal on West Street, but they didn't want to go along - we gave them a permit on the Hunt pit, to clean up, and now they are talking about cleaning up the Curtis pit, but our Town Engineer says that where they want to go is just swamp - and whether they deny it or not, they are back of the Hathaway pit.

What efforts have they really made? They have only gone where they felt that it was to their best interest. I fail to stream any crocodile tears for them.

Mrs. Drew: I feel, as certain as I sit here, that they are no longer interested in the Dias property, or the Curtis pit.

Hagerty: (to TM) Hasn't Buzzell any way to stop them - enforce regulations?

TM Calabrese: Only in the local courts - fine them day by day and they are in a position where they can well afford to pay $25 a day fine - its peanuts to them.

Kidder: But isn't that pit in North Wilmington a hazard?

Hagerty: No more than is Silver Lake.

TM - that's why we have this bill in the Legislature which we have filed through Frank Tanner - to take enforcement out of the local courts and making it a violation of equity.

Mrs. Drew: They beat North Reading in court - they can get all the gravel they want now, there.

Kidder: So the question is have we been smart? - or do we just think we are?

TM Calabrese: I am inclined to agree with you.

Hagerty: If Cronin can go to Andover and buy a hill why cant C&C.

Mrs. Drew: They have bought land in North Reading.

Kidder: And in Wilmington they have the Hunt Pit (other wise known as the Number Two Smith Pit - Ed)

Calabrese: And in reality, they own the Van Steensburg pit - I don't feel sorry for C&C one bit - maybe the Dias property could have been cut down but I don't think that C&C is going to suffer.

Hagerty: If the Board of Appeals had set a precedent and granted that variance, then we would have had Drinkwater on our necks - but I still can't understand why we can't take them to court.

Calabrese: They have a lawyer on their payroll - they can afford to keep that lawyer in court - but we would have to ask Mr. Buzzell to be in court every day - and can we do that?

If we constantly circumvent them we are going to find ourselves in a position where they are going to start digging straight down - they have millions of dollars at stake.

To be brutal - the town is at a disadvantage.

Kidder: We certainly haven't put ourselves out.

Mrs. Drew: I know you wont agree with me, but I think what happened at the Van Steensburg pit is our fault. Mr. Van was a law abiding citizen, who maintained a decent grade, and when we adopted the gravel regulations the Town Counsel told him that it didn't affect him because he had been there first - but he still kept a fine pit. Then we cancelled his license, along with everybody else - we made it hard for him - we put the man out of business.

Hagerty: There was thousands of yards (of gravel) left - we never put him out of business.

Drew: If we hadn't interfered with Van we wouldn't be in this mess. I think it was our own fault.

Calabrese: We have held the line on gravel pits - the question is if we had acted differently would we be in more trouble?

Hagerty: If we hadn't held the line it would be much worse. We have a fine area in North Wilmington, and if we had let the gravel merchants free it would all be gone.

The discussion was finished by Kidder, who observed that he had, so far, kept his mouth shut about ultimate possibilities of the gravel removals, but inasmuch as he had heard C&C engineers talk about the possibilities of 'digging to China' it was now no secret.

Kidder said that he felt that very soon the town would see Campanelli & Cardi going straight down, in the Hunt pit (off Concord Street).

Other Business Cemetery

Mssrs Cavanaugh and McMahon, Cemetery Commissioners, visited the board, and expressed their delight that the Selectmen were interested in rebuilding the surface of the older part of the cemetery. Some money will be included in the budget for 1959, they told the Selectmen, for this purpose.

Grand Juror

Mrs. Mary Fairweather, 24 Liberty Street North Wilmington, was drawn to serve as a Grand Juror, at the East Cambridge Court.

Traffic Regulations

Two hours were spent with Sgt John Imbimbo, of the Wilmington Police, discussing traffic regulations, many of which were voted by the Selectmen.

The new regulations cannot be effective until they have been approved. Imbimbo will have to talk over the problems with an engineer, from the State and other details will have to be attended to so that some time will have to elapse before the new regulations become effective. The last regulations were voted in Sept. 1939.

Among the proposals voted by the Selectmen were:

Parking

Grove Avenue, 100 feet in from Main Street, half hour.

Lowell St. from Perry's Corner to Maple Meadow Brook, No Parking.

Church St. No parking on S'y side, from the Church St. Hard ware to Columbia Ave. Parking on Northerly side, from Adelaide Street to Fire Station, and from brook near Olson Road to Postoffice, 2 hours, from 6 am to 6 pm.

No Parking on Middlesex Avenue, in North Wilmington on either side of the street, from Shady Lane Drive to North St.

No U turns to be permitted in Wilmington Square.

Imbimbo recommended that a flashing light be installed opposite the Fire Station, to control traffic at times when Fire Department apparatus is leaving. He opposed attempting to control the traffic light

A considerable time was spent by the Selectmen in discussing speeding on Nichols Street, and Salem Street. TM Calabrese reported that Nichols Street has more complaints on speeding than any other part of town, and later said that one lady there had said that 90% of the speeders were residents of the area.

Selectman De Felice deplored the fact that no policeman can seem to be on Salem Street between midnight and one am to (cont Pg 8) make an arrest on speeders.

"Make one arrest, and have a man lose his license for six months, and when the word passes around in the Tewksbury night spots the speeding will be stopped," he said.

No Trucking

It was voted to prohibit heavy trucking on Wildwood St. Glen Road, West Street, Parker Street, Adams Street, and Clark Street.

Imbimo gave, as an opinion, that it might take two years before the regulations could be put into force.

Kidder Objects

Selectman Kidder, in a prepared statement, objected to the Town Crier's printing of events that took part in an Executive Meeting, two weeks ago.

Kidder's statement read:

I would like to include in the minutes of tonight's meeting my disapproval and objection to an article in the Town Crier of Nov. 27 entitled "Three percent increase for Town Employees, - Kidder and TM quarrel about Fire Chief"

When I ran for Selectman two years ago, one of the main issues of my campaign was open meetings. I have always felt that my stand on this issue was one of the reasons I was elected. At the first meeting following my election, a motion was made to have our meetings open to the press, and they have been welcome at all meetings since. According to recent Massachusetts legislation we have been two years ahead in realizing the importance of an informed public through open meetings.

During my first two years of office I have never requested that an executive session be called; and I would be the first to admit that upon many occasions a request for an executive session has been called when there seemed no reason for excluding the press. Yet the need for an executive session does exist and they must be held at certain times. I doubt if anyone would find fault if at an executive session we as a Board of Selectmen met to discuss a personal problem regarding a town employee or did preliminary work on the new budget for the coming year.

Last week in an article in the Town Crier a report was given of an executive session of the Board of Selectmen which was held at the town hall in the confines of our Selectmen's room with four Selectmen and the Town Manager present behind closed doors.

That there is any doubt it was an executive session cannot be questioned for the editor states that it was. He goes on to state a certain pay raise which was also discussed will be given to all town employees before we, as a board have acted upon the final budget, and before it had been presented to the Finance Committee.

One wonders how he can use quotation marks around statements made by the Town Manager as though he had heard an actual conversation. Finally he reports on a personal problem of a town employee, the Fire Chief, and goes on using my name and what was supposedly said.

Let me state that as long as I am an elected official of the town of Wilmington, and we are in executive session I will not in any manner comment on what has taken place at such a meeting. Therefore, it would appear to me that a report of this type is extremely unfair reporting and is entirely unnecessary. Anyone who reads a report of this kind will have no idea as to its truthfulness, as long as the officials and T.M. continue to uphold the true intent of an executive session.

Hagerty: I agree 100% - it certainly isn't executive when it is reported.

Mrs. Drew: You raised your voices so loud - there were a lot of people in the hall - the door was open part of the time

I heard about that 3% increase before it was in the paper.

Hagerty: When it is in the paper the whole town thinks it is approved - the Finance Committee hasn't approved.

Kidder: I resent my name being used regarding personnel matters.

De Felice: I can readily see what Don means - I go out of here and read it in the paper.

Airport

Hagerty mentioned the coming hearing, for an airport, off West St. "If this thing slides through it could louse up some of the best property in Wilmington - I think we ought to send a notice to the Board of Selectmen, in Reading, so that they know of it too."

One of the most popular of the younger set, Miss Hoban approached the altar in a gown of white silk, with chantilly lace bodice and sleeves, with a Sabrina-styled neckline appliqued with sequins throughout. The skirt was full, and a finger tip length veil fell from a cap of matching white sequins, to the gown. She carried a prayer book, covered with white orchids and stephanotis.
